

WIRELESS WAS NOT WORKING

That the readers of the Advertiser did not have before them an account of the celebration of the Fourth of July at Hilo, on last Saturday morning, is chargeable to something which in colder climes would be denominated carelessness or worse, and even at this distance the officials of the company have no excuse for failure to carry a message duly filed, and in fact solicited by them.

In Hilo on Thursday the agent of a newspaper whose editor is one of the leading officials of the wireless telegraph company, received instructions to cover the race by wireless. The representative of the Advertiser, cognizant of this, went to the telephone company on Friday and asked that all the arrangements be made for holding open the lines of the company for the purpose of making it possible to send a report of the day. There was a great deal of doubt in the mind of the local manager there, he being of the opinion that the line not having advertised for business it would not guarantee to carry it.

When at length, after the races, there was filed such a message, the only advice that would be vouchsafed was that the operator at Mahukona could not yet be found. This meant a standoff for the time, and the message was not entirely despaired of until nearly midnight. Then the telephone man was certain that the message would not arrive in Honolulu.

Next morning, after 9 o'clock, there was received in Hilo a message solicited from the editor of the Advertiser, by the treasurer of the company, ordering that a report be sent. The only explanation that is given of this is that the telephone operator at Kohala was off duty perhaps.

This condition did not exist, however, when the line was to be used for the benefit of the official, for then it was possible to find Mahukona and send messages with a degree of promptness.

CHARLES E. RICHARDSON.

Death of the Well Known Kamaaina Near Hilo.

HILO, July 5.—Charles E. Richardson, a resident of Hawaii for the past 50 years, died at his mountain residence, 22 miles, Oiaa, at 7:25 this morning. Deceased was engaged in ranching in Kau for several years, and with a Mr. Williams, erected the Haili church in Hilo in 1856. He was engaged in the mercantile and lumber business in Hilo for many years, retiring in 1897 after disposing of his business to the Hilo Mercantile Co. Mr. Richardson was a great friend of the Hawaiians, and helped them in many ways. He leaves a widow and two daughters, one of whom is the wife of F. M. Wakefield. His estate is large.

The Coming Fair.

The coming agricultural fair at Honolulu on the last of this month should not be lost sight of by the people of Maui. Outside of the pleasure of visiting Honolulu at a time when many visitors from all the other Islands will be there, the opportunity to see what the new people are doing in the way of developing small farming on Oahu will be well worth looking into and copying. There is no reason why Walluku should not have a three days' agricultural and industrial fair, including racing, on the Fourth of July, 1903, and if the Honolulu fair should prove a success, Maui should begin at once to get ready for a fair to be held in Walluku a year hence.—Maui News.

Dysentery causes the death of more people than smallpox and yellow fever combined. In an army it is dreaded more than a battle. It requires prompt and effective treatment. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy has been used in nine epidemics of dysentery in the United States with perfect success, and has cured the most malignant cases both of children and adults, and under the most trying conditions. Every household should have a bottle at hand. Get it today. It may save a life. Benson, Smith & Co., Ltd., wholesale agents, sell it.
